

Ginga established in 1998, provide a comprehensive and expanding range of brokerage services for the energy markets including oil, gas, coal, petrochemicals, tanker freight, LPG, and bio-fuels, handled by over 70 brokers.

We believe that fostering long-lasting partnerships with our customers is the key to long-term growth and success. Together with our clients, we will enhance our risk management services to mitigate risk; develop innovative products; and discover new markets that will maximize financial yield.

With a broad and established network of clients, our brokers can offer you the best prices, as well as the best mix of hedging strategies, customized to suit your needs. With leading market insight and expertise, we ensure that your risks are mitigated and your resources maximized, to provide you the best returns.

As an Asia's leading energy broking house, we are committed to developing new markets and creating new opportunities for our clients.
